View From the Chair

By Curtis Given, CPP
SFBA Chair

As this year begins to wind down to our final three events, I want to thank the chapter for its great participation this year. We have been surpassing our average attendance numbers for all chapter meetings, virtual forums and events this year, and that says a lot for the membership and our programs.

We had a good turnout for our July meeting which was graciously hosted by Gregory R Acton C.P.P. at Palm. Our speaker was Wayne Gluhan and Ben Quinn, co-founders of Crosspoint Technology, a data eradication process and implementation services business. Wayne has over 20 years of experience with Silicon Valley companies in semiconductor and distribution/supply chain services. Ben has 25 years of experience in the Silicon Valley high tech communities including serving as CEO of Optima Technologies, an engineering services company. That presented an exciting and informative presentation on Data Security and Disk Destruction.

This year has been moving at warp speed and we are now coming up on our annual golf Tournament. Larry Reid and Kris Rennet are once again chairing the event this year. The tournament is planned for August 17, 2006 at Spring Valley Golf Course. The event should be a sell out as usual, so I hope everyone plans to attend.

With the Annual Golf Tournament, ASIS National in San Diego, and the Security officer Recognition day still pending this year, the chapter membership will have a lot of exciting events to participate in. I once again want to ask each member to take a moment to join us and participate in all the upcoming events. As one of the largest ASIS International chapters, we need to start to set the bar higher for the coming years. On behalf of the Executive committee, we hope to see you at one of the upcoming events.

Respectfully,
Curtis Given, CPP
